AUSTRIAN RUN DOWN BY A SANTA FE R. R. TRAIN

M. Malamone, While Crossing Tracks in Local Railroad Yards This Morning Was Hit by String of Cars and Instantly Killed—Had Been to Machine Shops Looking For Work—Thought Man Might Have Committed Suicide Owing to Inability to Get Work.

M. Malamone, an Austrian, residing at the Germania hotel, while crossing the Santa Fe tracks in the local yards was struck by a box car and instantly killed at an early hour this morning.

Malamone had been down to the Santa Fe shops in search of work and it was while he was picking his way across the network of tracks that he met his death. Several letters were found on his person by Coroner C. L. Abbott and Deputy Coroner E. B. Smallwood, written in Austrian evidently from the man's relatives in Vienna.

Whether or not Malamone met his death accidentally or committed suicide has not as yet been ascertained by the authorities. Several employees on their way to work at the time that the man met his death stated that in spite of the warnings given him by the brakeman riding upon the car he kept right on walking across the tracks finally meeting his death under the wheels of the car.

No arrangements have thus far been made as to the disposal of the remains. The deceased was 35 years of age and had lived in Richmond but a few weeks.

STREET DEPT. IS KEPT BUSY ON LAND SLIDES

The recent rain was the chief cause in a large number of land slides which took place on the west side of town. Assistant Superintendent of Streets Frank Welch with a force of men were kept busy today in clearing off a number of the hillside streets so as to make room for traffic. The streets affected were Terrace, Seale, Contra Costa, Golden Gate and Santa Fe avenues.

"HANK ADAMS NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

Word was received in Richmond at a late hour this afternoon that "Hank" Adams, former well known Santa Fe engineer of this city, at the present time residing in Los Angeles, was not expected to live. Immediately upon receipt of the letter his two brothers residing in this city left for Los Angeles.

A. W. VOSS ACCEPTS PULLMAN POSITION

W. A. Voss, former news dealer, has accepted a position with the P. & M. company. Voss during the time that he has been in the newspaper game has made a number of friends who will be sorry to learn of his accepting a new position.

Will Combat Blue Law Ordinance in This City

Petitions are being circulated in Richmond addressed to the city council which will probably be presented to that body next Monday evening protesting against the passage of an ordinance by the board prohibiting Sunday circuses and road shows in Richmond. Last Monday a petition was presented to the council by a committee representing several Richmond protestant churches asking that the board enact an ordinance prohibiting the desecration of Sunday in so far as allowing circuses and road shows to exhibit in Richmond is concerned. The petition reads:

"To the Hon. City Council, of the City of Richmond:

"We, the undersigned, electors of the city of Richmond, earnestly protest at the proposed curtailment of the liberties of the people of this community on the part of the signers of a petition recently submitted to your honorable body to prohibit by ordinance in future all Sunday circuses and road shows.

"We respectfully represent that the adoption of such an ordinance would be an infringement on the liberties of the people and a reversal to the superstitious age when the blue laws of New England were in force and that the passage of such an ordinance by your honorable body would be clearly unconstitutional.

ROCKFELLER'S KIN DIES IN WANT PIONEER OF CONTRA COSTA COUNTY

Hiram Rockefeller, a cousin of John D. Rockefeller, the oil magnate and an old pioneer of this county, died in Redding Monday in subject want.

Hiram Rockefeller was at one time the owner of what is now the Bay View Tract, near the county line. He was a farmer in this county for many years and moved to Shasta county a short time before Richmond was founded. Had he remained in this vicinity the establishment of the oil refinery here by his cousin, Rockefeller, would have made him independently rich as the land became very valuable.

It is said that shortly before his death Hiram wrote his relative John D. and asked for assistance and was turned down.

MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS FLOWS MOTHER AND BABIES ARE CARED FOR

The milk of human kindness flowed into the Purcell home at No. 228 Eighth street all day today and the destitute mother and her four babies are being cared for by the kind people of Richmond. Never did a story of want and destitution reach the hearts of Richmond's people as did the account of the condition of Mrs. Purcell and her brood published exclusively in the Record-Herald last evening for the first time. All day today groups of ladies have called on the family in their three-roomed house on Eighth street bearing bundles of clothes and food for the suffering family so that today, thanks to the timely notice given by Dr. W. W. Fraser who is attending to Mrs. Purcell and her children, the gaunt form of the wolf has been chased away from the front door.

It can be said of the people of Richmond that they are prompt to respond to the cry of distress. Richmond is fortunate in being a place of plenty and it is not often that cases similar to this one are brought to public notice but when they are there is always a quick response.

Dr. Fraser states that the condition of Mrs. Purcell and her children is improving. The poor woman's mind had been relieved of a big load on worry incident to her pitiful condition and she is now more hopeful and believes that all will be well with her and her children. The family is in need at the present time of cooking utensils. Clothes and food have been provided and necessary shoes were purchased this morning by Rev. Calfee and were paid for out of the funds received by this paper.

This morning an employee of the local postoffice dropped into the office and handed the city editor a bright silver dollar for the Purcell family, and later George W. Cushing telephoned that he had made out a check for $5. This is splendid. Any contributions received by the Record-Herald will be placed in the proper hands and the money will be turned over to the family. The Record-Herald has collected the following money to date for the stricken family:

|---------------------|---------|
| Previously reported | $11.25 |
| Geo. W. Cushing     | 5.00    |
| Fred Meyer          | 1.00    |
| Employee postoffice | 1.00    |
| Stanford Philpott   | .85     |
| Total               | $19.10 |

TREE PLANTING IS NOW CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL

City Council Holds Adjourned Meeting—Street Paving Protests Overruled by Board—Hancock Attempts to Lambast Members and Receives Roasting at the Hands of Councilmen—Charged With Being Chronic Obstructionist—Other Matters Discussed.

The city council met last evening in the city hall in adjourned meeting. All members of the board were present and Mayor O. R. Ludwig presided.

The principal matters discussed by the members of the municipal board were the tree planting project and protests against certain street improvements heretofore filed with the board.

Henry Meiers, a tree expert and landscape gardener was on hand last evening and addressed the board. His remarks impressed the members of the board and the gentleman, who hails from Burlington, in the city hall in adjourned meeting. All members of the board were present and Mayor O. R. Ludwig presided.

A part committee will be appointed at an early date by Mayor Ludwig to take up the tree planting proposition in this city. The kinds of trees best suited to this climate by Expert Meiers are Hawthorne, maple, locust, sycamore, elm, birch and English walnut.

M. A. Hancock, who made a speech last evening, will probably be retained by the council to supervise the tree planting campaign to be inaugurated in this city in the near future.

Cox was represented at the trial by Lee D. Windrem and M. R. Jones.

MRS. BENTON IS TENDERED PARTY

A number of the many friends of Mrs. Benton gathered at her home on Third street last evening to tender that popular matron a birthday party. Those present at the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Captain McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. J. DeBarrows, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Berrie, Mrs. Frank

RICHMOND NINE WILL TANGLE WITH THE 'OAKS'

Coach Shaw, of the Richmond team, received a letter from Manager Devlin of the Oakland coast league ball team today stating that the Oaks would be willing to play the Richmond nine at the Park avenue ball grounds in Emeryville on the afternoon of March 15th.

Should the local nine manage to get away with the long end of the score on that day it would mean a big feather in their baseball bonnet.

Tormey Says Women Can Sit On Boards

MARTINEZ, Feb. 19.—The women folks have the job of election officer thrown open to them.

So says City Attorney Leo Tormey who has concluded after a critical reading of the "Woman's Eight-Hour Law." While it is sweeping in the inclusion of activities where employers are inhibited from requiring more than eight hours of service each day from their women employees, public officers and election booth officials are not listed in the category of limitation in hours of labor.

County Clerk Jasper H. Wells is also positive that Attorney General Webb has given forth an opinion in which the question of appointing women to election boards is settled in favor of the superior sex. Therefore, wherefore and whyfore is it now deemed to be lawful and legal to appoint women on the municipal election board at Martinez and elsewhere.

The law imposing the eight hour maximum of woman's labor extends to the following:

No females shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, public lodging house, apartment house, hospital or place of amusement or restaurant or telegraph or telephone establishment or office or by any express or transportation company in this state more than eight hours during one day or forty-eight hours in one week.

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

The lifting of the embargo upon the shipment of arms and munitions of war into Mexico is expected, of course, to be followed by increased activity on the part of the Constitutionalists, and possibly some rapid and important changes in the situation there. Much depends upon the financial ability of the Constitutionalists. If they have money it is possible that by the summer months they may be well within striking distance of Mexico City. No doubt they will gain many recruits on their march to the south if they are able to crush the federal forces at Torreon, and in that event the overthrow of Huerta will not be remote.

But after all this shall have been achieved, what will be the result so far as our own relations with Mexico are concerned? Are Carranza and his captains able to set up and establish a constitutional government that will be acceptable to the nations of the world?

We may express the hope that they are and that peace and order may soon be established in the Mexican Republic, and yet it would require a stretch of the imagination to conceive that any such result is possible, in view of present conditions there. Mexico is simply revolution-ridden because her social and economic foundations are defective. The substitution of one military despot for another can afford no solution to the problem. There are other factions than those of Carranza and Huerta, and these are certain to be heard from when changes in the de facto government take place.

Moreover, there is always the likelihood that Carranza's accession would be followed by jealousies and intrigue in his own camp. Madero's fate is a reminder of what is almost certain to occur.

The real task in Mexico is to apply far-reaching remedies to the intolerable social and economic conditions of the country. No republic can endure in peace, order and contentment with the great mass of population ignorant, half-starved and homeless. Mexico really has no electorate worthy of the name, although under civilized conditions it might have a voting population of 2,500,000. The Mexican people will have to be given an opportunity to acquire land and become independent, and a system of public education will have to be installed so that the masses may become intelligent enough to control their government and exact justice of their present oppressors.

This will be Mexico's real revolution and the only revolution that can bring lasting results and establish the Republic upon enduring foundations.

Can Carranza and his leaders accomplish this momentous task, and will they be willing to do it in good faith? The answer to this question must in the end determine the relations between the United States and Mexico, for in the absence of a general rehabilitation of the entire structure of Mexican civilization no progress can be made in composing the troubles of that unhappy country, and the United States will still be confronted with the task of restoring peace and order and doing for Mexico what it has already done for Cuba and is yet doing for the Philippines.

Old Joe Cannon, whose constituency after many years retired him to private life for cause, made a speech the other day, denouncing President Wilson, but all summed up it contained no worse accusations than that the president was 'smashing precedents, such as reading his messages personally to congress, and abolishing the New Years' reception at the White House. If this is the worst, the American people can probably manage to bear those two terrible hardships.

Oklahoma may have an ex-convict for a governor, but if so it can at least take comfort in the knowledge that it is much better for a governor to complete his criminal career before being elected to office instead of during his administration, as is sometimes the case.

Mr. Huerta says there is no change in the situation, and he might have added, also, that there is no change in the Mexican treasury.

A BLOOD CURDLING YARN

Getting through with the editorial dope last night rather early, for a wonder, we grabbed up a book, the first one in a long while and the first one within reach, and we'll have to tell you about it, as it illustrates the difference between reading books and reading the daily telegraphic news that keep the wires and the wireless busy. It was about a fellow, or animal, or thing, named Nessus. This Nessus was clearly no lady, nor yet a man, for he was half man and half horse—a Centaur. He wore a poisoned garment, which, from the shape of him, must have been a horse blanket. Nessus was shot by Hercules for trying to elope—or gallop—with Dejanira, the wife of Here, which served him right, as no gentleman should elope with another man's wife. It is not good manners. The arrow with which Hercules shot Nessus was dipped in the blood of Hydra, whoever he or she was, and while Nessus was pawing up the earth in his death struggles he gave his blanket to the runaway lady as a charm with which to regain the affections of her husband, whose home was all busted up because of the elopement. The garment was said to have been poisoned, but it was probably only full of germs and microbes, like any other old horse blanket. Hercules died while wearing the garment, and we couldn't shed any tears over that, either, as he appeared to be a sort of all-round tough like Jack Johnson or Boss Murphy, and had a disagreeable habit of killing everybody who argued with him on politics or anything else. He was also mean to his wife and scrimped her allowance and would not let her wear slit skirts, or likely she would not have ran away with a creature half man and half horse, who chewed tobacco, wore hames and thought wallowing in the horse lot was taking a bath. We went to sleep over the book, just as we do over Chet Rowell's editorials in the Fresno Republican.

What puzzles one is that we find
A lot of wealthy men
Who have somebody sign their names
And can't count up to ten.

Playing a pianola is a good way to give the brain a rest, but it must be hard on the feet.

We may be an old fog, but fashion or no fashion no man or woman will ever have an opportunity to view these 10-cent cotton socks through a trouser slit.

Telegraphic news tell of a man 88 years of age who has just eloped with his secretary, 68 years old. There is no fool like an old fool, except two old fools.

As far as can be made out from the dispatches, the Peruvian revolution is tame compared to some we have had right here at home in the legislative halls of Sacramento.

A divining rod expert from Germany has just arrived in New York. He says over in his country he is called a "metallwunscherutenforscher." No wonder he left.

Wells-Fargo express wagons now all display a large sign, telling of great reductions in charges. Other cut-throat monopolies like them will be doing the same thing in due time, for Wilson means business.

A year ago Pueblo, Colorado, adopted a commission form of government and the single tax scheme, and is already tired of it and wishes it were back to the old plan. Theories do not always pan out.

A Cleveland tax collector wants Mr. Rockefeller to cough up the small sum of $12,690,000 income tax. Oily John's reply to this will probably be: "East sparingly, avoid intoxicants, take plenty of outdoor exercise and work hard."

With Heney and Rowell ranting over the state with the senatorial bee in their bonnets, and Governor Johnson to make a whirlwind campaign, what the country needs is some kind of a serum for the cure of eruptive bazoos.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY NEWS

MARTINEZ

Sheriff Veale and Supervisor Trythall are deserving of credit for the interest that they have taken and the work they have done with the state highway commission relative to getting the work on the great highway pushed from Richmond to Martinez, to get it widened more than was first planned, and to inaugurate a system of parking it with grass and trees, making it one of the finest automobile boulevards in the state. Veale has purchased a new gardening trowel and a lot of geraniums and will soon be seen setting out plants all along the right-of-way.

It is just awful how these public officials set up. Jim Owens failed to vote as everybody told him to on everything that came up. Mayor Mott has positively refused to join the bull mooses, and now Martin Joost has gone and committed matrimony, thus inaugurating the harvest of the California peach crop months ahead of time.

The Oakwood farm of 320 acres in the Alhambra valley has been sold to Oakland parties for $50,000, who will make a beautiful home estate of it. It belonged to the Ames estate.

Martinez is to have a town election on April 13, for two trustees to succeed C. G. Bacon and C. P. Howard, four years terms and nominations are in order.

The new Martinez-Benicia ferry is building up a fine business, as shown by the report of the secretary filed a few days ago. Up to January 1 there were 24,023 passengers carried; 4,353 automobiles, and the receipts amounted to $36,788.10. They paid $18,988.50 for a boat and the building of the ferry slips cost $9,771.50. When the state highway is completed between Richmond and Martinez this ferry will do a land office business.

Fifty thousand fruit tree seedlings were received from France by a local Martinez nursery this week, part of which will go to a branch established at Concord. Looks like Contra Costa county people would not run out of fruit in the future. Fifty thousand trees is a good many.

Deeds for a right of way for a county road between Martinez and Bay Point are all in and County Surveyor Brown has completed the survey. The road will be completed this year.

The Gazette thinks that the growth of Martinez and the rapidly increasing travel is soon going to necessitate the building of a large and modern semi-tourist hotel, and that such a project is now under consideration.

A fine new building is going up on Main street, on property formerly occupied by the old Commercial hotel.

CROCKETT

The California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining company held its annual stockholders' meeting a few days ago and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

R. P. Rithet, president; W. M. Alexander, vice president; P. A. Drew, secretary; W. H. Huntington, treasurer and G. M. Rolph, general manager. General Manager Rolph recommended in his report that the capacity of the company's refinery at Crockett be increased at once from 700 tons to 900 tons a day. This will entail a expenditure of $250,000. The most striking feature of the report was the strong light it cast on Mr. Rolph's successful efforts in bettering the welfare and the physical condition of the company's 550 employees at the Crockett plant. Some years ago the company erected a clubhouse for its men, and Rolph now suggests the building of a $20,000 gymnasium, including a plunge tank, lecture room for the apprentices and other special features, to be conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. On February 1 the company instituted a uniform eight-hour day in the refinery, which is operated on the open-shop plan. Last year the company presented a public park to Crockett, and this is to be supplemented this year by a children's playground. Shower baths, rest rooms and all other improvements conducive to the health and comfort of the operatives have been introduced in the refinery during the past year. This big sugar refining plant employs many hundreeds of men, has an immense payroll and is one of the biggest and best manufacturing concerns in this section of the country. Crockett is mighty lucky to have such an institution within its limits.

Hundreds of friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jennings are mourning the death of the latter, who was much beloved by all. Mr. Jennings is connected with the Crockett Signal and his brothers of the printing craft in this county sent floral offerings and kind words to him in his affliction in the loss of his life companion.

PITTSBURG

Somebody ought to sick the poet of the Pittsburg Post on to the poet of the Crockett Signal, and let 'em eat each other up. They are the hardest pair to draw to we know of. They are even worse than Harry Hammond, of the Byron Times, and that is useless.

Pittsburg is confronted with the municipal duty of election two town trustees, a clerk and treasurer pretty soon, and a lively campaign is promised. Pittsburg is getting to be a town of something like 5,000 inhabitants now, mostly happy and prosperous, and a town election is more important than it used to be.

Since a big ocean steamer went up the river to Stockton, the Pittsburgites are plumping themselves with the happy hopes that at no distant day they will be able to step aboard the great liners and take trips to any old foreign port they want to. Europe, Irope, Stirrup, and everywhere except jail. Tracy of the Post thinks maybe he will

Greece Asks for Justice

H.

We have recently witnessed an extraordinary phenomenon. In the face of history, absolutely without the slightest foundation, even in legend or rumor, running quite contrary to all acknowledged fact, a lone Demosthenes has risen in America who declares, not that the moon is green cheese or that the natural propulsion of water is uphill; no—more incredible still—he claims that "the Bulgarians have been for centuries the defenders of Christianity, and the champions of civilization."

At what fountain head of authentic history has he imbibed this idea? Is he, perchance, a student and pupil of the renowned Baron Munchausen, or have his geographical and historic researches led him to the archives of the equally notable Mr. Gulliver? These authorities, while entertaining, are no longer considered authoritative. Any other book of reference in any language will divulge conditions that bring his theory to naught. "The pen is mightier than the sword," we have been told, but a stroke of the pen, while it may seek to blacken a page of history, can never cleanse the bloody Tarter scimitar that has for ages been steeped in Christian blood.

Innocent errors in spelling geography or history may arise from tw causes, ignorance or carelessness; but neither is excusable in the teacher.

The Balkans are very far away. The history of her many races and her frequent wars is not part of the curriculum of the American public school system. Only when such a war as that which involved Turkey and the Balkan allies arises is there any interest roused in America in these countries so remote as to appear almost legendary. Only when the whole world shudders in horror at such atrocities in the second war does the United States take thought that over there on the borders where Orient and Occident touch there are men and women, human like themselves, suffering martyrdom in the cause of liberty. Then the public interest awakes suddenly and asks for facts and information. Is it fair that these questions should be answered, by lies? Are these Bulgarians, indeed, the "defenders of Christianity and the champions of civilization?"

Let us for a moment contemplate the authentic history of these champions of civilization.

The Bulgars of today are the lineal, undiluted blood descendants of the Tartars who originally drifted in wandering predatory bands over the great plateau of Touran, where they formed a branch of the Turanian race from which also the Turks are derived. Their first European occupation was upon the Steppes adjacent to the River Volga, and it was from this district that they invaded the Byzantine Empire in A. D. 498.

A. D. 502 they again pushed forward their border outposts until in A. D. 517 a third and more important invasion took place. Upon this occasion they slew without mercy throughout the invaded territory and took vast booty both in treasure and prisoners, exacted enormous ransoms and enslaved thousands upon thousands of the captured inhabitants.

Marcellinus, a contemporaneous historian, mentions in his chronicles that 1,000,000 drachmas was paid in ransom to the Bulgars for the non-combatant prisoners taken in this raid, mainly women and children. The Bulgars, dissatisfied with the amount of the tribute, returned only part of the captives, withholding the rest as slaves.

When Justinian, Emperor of Byzantium, ascended the throne, A. D. 527, he found himself forced to repel these invaders, who after a furious resistance were finally driven back to their original point of aggression. The defeated hordes allied themselves with the Huns, or Chief, of the Avars, another Turanian tribe, and thus reinforced they descended anew upon the Christian empire, devastating Macedonia and Thrace and even invading the city of Salonica, which they besieged without success.

St. Demetrius, Bishop of Salonica (later martyred by the Turks), relates in detail the horrors of the siege of Salonica by the Bulgars and Avars, giving a dreadful account of their treachery, cruelty and savagery.

The Bulgars and their descendants remained subservient to the Avars and were liberated only after the wars with the great Byzantine Emperor, Heraclius.

Until A. D. 679 the Byzantine armies succeeded in holding back the Tartar tribes in the territory north of the Danube but at that date the Avars, with their Bulgar slaves and allies, surged southward again and succeeded not only in occupying, but in holding the country between the Danube and the Emos (Balkan) Mountains. This incursion was marked as usual, by barbarous devastation, rapine, pillage, abduction and massacre of defenceless inhabitants.

Theophanes, a chronicler of the period, characterizes the Bulgars as "the abhorred race."

From their new vantage ground the hordes during the years that followed, that is, to say, from 679 to 687, pushed forward in marauding bands through the adjoining territory, pillaging Macedonia and Thrace exacting ruinous ransoms and taking slaves.

They had no agriculture, no productive trades of any kind, no learning no civilization. Their wealth was extorted or stolen. Murder and looting were their only professions. As last the Emperor, Justinian the Great, was forced to take the field against them and their allies, the Slavs, to whom he administered a signal defeat.

Eighty years later the Bulgars, having regained their freedom, entered Macedonia and were once again defeated by Constantine V. The empire of Byzantium was then exerting all its strength to hold the eastern gate of Europe against the hordes of Moslem invaders, both Turks and Arabs, during a succession of terrible religious wars. Did Bulgaria rush to the defense of Christianity? Let history answer. Rapine, pillage, invasion into the sorely tried provinces, who were draining their blood and straining their sinews to hold back the armies of Islam. A. D. 679, 687, 728, 659, 728, 765, 773, all dates of ruinous invasion by the Tartar Bulgars into Christian territory. They were not even Christians at that time. It is a marvel of the ages that each time they were defeated and driven back to the Balkan mountains. Not for one moment did they join forces with the Christian empire to repel the hordes who clamored at the gates of Europe. The opportunities for exercising their profession of slaughter and pillage were too good to be lost little they knew or cared for the terrible fundamental struggle that set Europe and Asia at each others' throats. They cared as little, in fact, as they cared for their own oaths and promises.

History has prescribed Bulgaria's black record.

After the defeat of these barbarians in 773 A. D. while yet they were in Constantinople suing for peace, the Christian Emperor was delegates of the Bulgar chieftains informed that an army of 12,000 Bulgars had assembled on the borders of Macedonia and Thrace preparatory to a renewed invasion in order to replenish by ransom and loot their exchequer depleted by their last disastrous campaign. The emperor immediately took the field against them and once more they were put to flight.

A. D. 809 the Bulgars, having learned where the treasure destined to pay off the Byzantine army was then located, made a sudden raid into Christian territory and seized 1,100 Livres of gold, a sum equal to 1,188,000 drachmas. They then invaded Thrace under the leadership of Krum, their chieftain, and slew 8,000 soldiers and vast numbers of the unarmed inhabitants. The Byzantine Emperor, Nikephoros, came to the rescue, defeated the enemy and captured the tents of the leaders. Hence enormous treasure of loot was found.

While Krum was discussing the state of peace with the Emperor his troops treacherously attacked their conquerors. They succeeded in isolating the Emperor and his escort from the rest of his suite, who refused to surrender and fought until the last man was killed. Of the slaughter and atrocities that followed Theophanes, the historian, has left a long account. "All beautiful Christian girls that were captured in the province were ravished. The barbarous Krum cut off the head of the treacherously slain Emperor with his own sword when he found the dead body lying among his slain dignitaries, and of this ghastly trophy he had fashioned a drinking cup. Strange conduct, is it not, for a 'Defender of Christianity,' but not in the least unfamiliar to the annals of the Hun and Vandal.

In 812 Krum again invaded Northern Thrace (Eastern Rumania) and captured the inhabitants which they proceeded with painstaking thoroughness from July to October, according to the chronicles. The following year Krum communicated with the Emperor Leon, offering to conclude peace, but demanded the choicest maidens of Constantinople to be sent to him. His demands were refused, and in reprisal he ordered that every building in Thrace be razed. This second devastation he accomplished at his leisure, according to the Chronicle Symeon Magister, putting to the sword myriads of men, women and children. Thus he appeased his fury at the first defeat.

All the world knows how the empire of Byzantium, after centuries of resistance to infidel onslaughts, fell at last before the irresistible rush of Moslem fury that, surging onward, threatened to overwhelm all of Continental Europe. But the world does not seem to realize that the Bulgars, far from coming to the assistance of threatened Christianity, seized the opportunity to burn, sack and pillage unresisted, and to their hearts' content, offering a hideous picture, to all humanity, hardly suggestive of the title, "Defenders of Christianity and Champions of Civilization."

Indeed, the Bulgarians from their first authentic records to the terrible history of yesterday have offered a continuous spectacle of barbaric savagery.

They have conclusively proved that a few centuries of residence in Europe and the political makeshift of the adoption of the Christian religion cannot make a civilized European people out of a horde of Tartars.

The massacre of 50,000 non-combatant Greeks and Turks in Macedonia during the Greco-Bulgarian war and of 150,000 Turks in Thrace and Macedonia during the Turko-Balkan struggle shows that the history of the Bulgars repeats itself.

Never have these wild hordes created anything. On the contrary, destruction has been their pastime. Nothing is attached to their name save odium; nothing good, nothing human, nothing intellectual, nothing noble have they ever contributed to humanity; only that which is base, shameful, treacherous and barbarous. In her passing she leaves only traces of ruin and destruction, and the words of her mouth are lies. To her religion, honor, truth are all but points of weakness in others, to be played upon, used, abused, cajoled. Why, then, should Bulgaria clamor for admittance to the circle of the civilized nations? She would find herself wholly at a loss to live up to their standards and utterly incapable of comprehending their traditions. And as for the nations of Europe, they could find in such an association only contamination and insult.

Bulgaria cannot clean her black record with words. She cannot turn her blood smeared garments inside out and hope that the stains will not be seen. Her reformation must be from within. She will have to change her fundamental nature.

Her very protest against her exclusion is made up of her old folly, her old treachery, her ancient duplicity. Let Bulgaria and her defenders look well to her history, both past and present, and consider these words, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

LOCAL GREEKS VINDICATE FATHERLAND LAST ARTICLE ON BULGARIANS TODAY

The local Greek colony, headed by A. Papadakis, proprietor of the Marathon store on Macdonald avenue, has as far as possible vindicated the name of the fatherland. Today the Record-Herald prints the last story of a series which have been appearing from time to time on the atrocities of the Bulgarians during the late Bulgarian war. According to the articles printed the Bulgarians have been veritable fiends disguised as Christians and the truth has been given to the American people without exaggeration whatever. The Greeks are the most patriotic people in the world and history is replete with their sacrifices for their country. It has been noted that when the people of Greece settle in this country they make most excellent citizens and are equally as enthusiastic over the prosperity of their adopted country as they are for the welfare of their fatherland.

A number of the members of the smart set were entertained at a bridge whist party held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Niedercker this afternoon.

Mrs. Niedercker was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. Brooks and Mrs. Fredenberg. The affair was probably one of the largest attended parties held in Richmond in many years, as nearly fifty people were present at the party.

A CORRECTION

The organizer of the ladies' Social league, Mrs. R. R. Case, begs to inform the people of Richmond that a slight mistake was made in the report of the league meeting last evening. Mrs. J. B. Ogborn was not appointed as one of the committee to solicit funds. We simply secured permission of Mrs. Ogborn's office for those who wished to contribute funds for the Lehnhart campaign.

ITALIAN IS FINED FOR HIS DRIVING

LOS ANGELES STOMACH SUFFERER SAYS MAYR'S REMEDY SAVED HIM

H. W. Hanna Tells How Wonderful Treatment Ended His Troubles

H. W. Hanna of 618 West Fourth street, Los Angeles, was a sufferer from stomach and digestive troubles. He tried many remedies.

Then one day he took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and found himself on the way to health. In telling of his experience he wrote: "Your Wonderful Stomach Remedy is all you claim it is, in my opinion. Your medicine cured me."

With just such expressions thousands of users in all parts of the country praise this remedy. The first dose convinces—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel ailments. Many declare that it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure that it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to Richmond pharmacists and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments, and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you about its wonderful effects.

At once! Clogged nostrils open, head colds and catarrh vanish. Breathe freely! Clear Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stop Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Croup, Hoarseness.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get a small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or Catarrh will surely disappear.

We ask you this time for a patriotic expression. No month, except perhaps July, arouses our feeling of pride and patriotism like the month of February, for this is the birth month of both Washington and Lincoln. Lincoln was born on the 12th. Washington on the 22nd. The great and revered names—no names in all the galaxy of the great deserve more to be immortalized. Let your thoughts be aroused. Give us a patriotic expression—original or quoted, like these: "Mine, the Grandest Nation," "I'll Sing My Country's Praise," "My Country—Sweet Land of Liberty." ## CONTRA COSTA COUNTY NEWS take a trip to Heaven. We said maybe.

The Pittsburg salmon cannery industry will not be damaged by the new fishery laws, as was feared. It is a big industry and should be encouraged.

The Post was handed an awful lemon a few days ago, a Mrs. W. J. Hall bringing in a couple that measured 16 inches in circumference each and weighed three pounds. They were grown in her door yard.

Pittsburg has also let a gas franchise to a new company and will soon have gas for its cooking, heating and lighting. Martinez, Concord and other towns are also to be supplied.

The Woman's Improvement club gave a valentine party that was a great success, and afforded a good time to many citizens. More than 150 guests attended.

Crockett, Port Costa, Tormey, Pittsburg and Richmond are all in on a new baseball league, to be known as the Carquinez Strals league, and it is expected that some good games will result in those towns during the coming season.

The new Pittsburg Hotel, with Thomas Kane as proprietor, has been opened and is doing well. It is a fine building and the formal opening will soon take place with a swell entertainment.

A lot of new improvements are on "the air," whatever that is, for Pittsburg this year, and it looks like about a thousand will be added to the population, not counting a good many that manage to be born there.

ALL OVER THE COUNTY

A persistent rumor has it that Martinez is to get one of the biggest oil refineries in the country before long, and that 400 acres of land nearby has been purchased by a Jan 15—th big oil syndicate for that purpose.

The land has been bought, all right, and there seems to be substantial grounds for believing that a monster deal of some kind is on foot.

Antioch closed its sale of $25,000 bonds to the First National Bank and will now proceed to make a lot of municipal improvements. Antioch is one of the best towns in this neck of timber, if anybody should ask you, and its manufacturing interests are assuming large proportions, chief among which being its paper mill and canning factories.

The Foresters of the Brentwood country were scheduled to give a grand ball on the 20th inst. and as Harry Hammond has not returned our spike-tailed coat we presume he was waiting for that important event. And being minus that coat we could not attend Martin Joost's wedding.

The Byron Times is giving Senator J. C. Owens a loyal support and is making a determined fight against the recall fiasco.

Several people around the Stockton, Byron, Brentwood country have been buying caterpillar engines lately, that have 75 horse-power and "blow up a whole farm in a few hours. They farm on a big scale around that good country and never do things by halves. And here is this scribbler turning up the earth on his 2x4 ranch with a fine fork!

Concord has made arrangements to pave a number of its business streets, and otherwise put on style. Ralph Wight of Martinez is their city attorney and is guiding them along the straight and narrow path that leads to glory and renown.

The Oakland-Antioch railroad is making all arrangements to improve its service for commuters, much to the delight of Walnut Creek, Concord, Pittsburg, Antioch and other towns it serves. The O. & M. is a great factor in the upbuilding of the interior of Contra Costa county.

Pope & Talbot, one of the biggest lumber concerns on the Pacific coast, making extended improvements on lands between Bay Point and Nicholas.

Tree planting is continuing rapidly all over the Concord, Walnut Creek and Mount Diablo sections, among the hundreds mentioned by the various county papers being the following: George W. Whitman, 1700 Bartlett pears; C. L. McClellan, among the newcomers near Kookstons, 1500 Bartlett pears; Mrs. M. C. Parker, orders for ten acres of almost tree; Mrs. E. Scholz, five acres of almonds; Mr. Bettencourt, 2000 resistant vines for his place near the Hutchinson ranch; John S. Nunez, near Lafayette, 200 Bartlett pears and 50 peaches; August Humburg, near Alamo, 300 Bartlett pears; B. Younger, near Pacheco, 300 almonds; H. C. Gehring, 1700 Bartlett pears and 600 French prunes; Fred Galfindo is also the buyer of a large number of assorted fruit trees to be set out in the old homestead. On the Park Ridge Tract Miss Prentiss and several other teachers from Oakland who have taken up ten and five acre tracts, are having their holdings set out to orchard.

NEW ROAD TO OPEN MARCH 1

The San Ramon Valley Electric railway, a feeder of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern railway, recently constructed at a cost of $300,000, will open for passenger and freight business on March 1.

The new road joins the main line of the Oakland and Antioch one mile west of Walnut Creek and extends 11 miles southward, tapping the rich farming districts of Danville and Alamo and extending to the foot of Mount Diablo near the center of the old Cook ranch.

The schedule time of this road from Danville to San Francisco will be one hour, two hours less time than is now required to reach the metropolis from this district over the Southern Pacific road. The Sacramento Valley electric line is nearing completion and its 138 miles of track will be ready for use May 1. It taps the Oakland and Antioch at Deaverton and Dixon.

Richmond Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.
This Richmond citizen testified long ago.
Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.
The facts are now confirmed.
Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.
It forms convincing proof of merit.
Mrs. James Wright, 1119 Roosevelt avenue, Richmond, Cal., says: "I was troubled all the time with weakness and pains in the hips and loins. I was almost laid up. I got up in the morning feeling so tired, lame and worn out, that it was all I could do to start my housework. My kidneys were weak and if I caught cold, it always made me feel worse. I tried everything I heard of, but didn't seem able to get relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I soon felt like a different woman. After I had used four boxes, all the ailments had gone and my health was fine."
No Trouble Since
On April 21, 1913, Mrs. Wright was interviewed and said: "I haven't had a sign of kidney complaint since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me some years ago. You may continue using the endorsement I have given them before."

WESTERN STATES WANTS TO ISSUE MORE BONDS

The Western States Gas & Electric company has filed an application with the commission for leave to issue $219,000 first mortgage refunding 5 per cent gold bonds which the applicant wishes to sell at 82 1/2%.

In 1911 it executed a trust mortgage in the sum of $10,000,000 to the Girard Trust company of Philadelphia, and of this authorized issue of $10,000,000 has bonds outstanding in the sum of $4,232,000. Of this amount there has heretofore been authorized the issue of $1,702,000. The sum now asked is for refunding, for expenditures made, and for physical equipment.

The Western States Gas & Electric owns plants at Richmond, Stockton and Eureka, this state.

DR. BLAKE WRITES ON MILK TESTS

(Contributed by Richmond Department of Health).

The testing of milk for gross dirt. Besides the usual tests given to milk such as specific gravity, the Babcock test and others, this department is now applying the sediment filtration test to the samples of milk brought in to the city laboratory for examination.

This test is made for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of sediment or gross dirt and although rather a crude test, it is of great value in the detection of dirty milk. This test is also a great aid in the fight for a cleaner milk supply. When we are able to show the dairyman the dirt actually out of a small part of his milk supply, it is much easier to convince him that his methods are wrong, for "seeing is believing."

For the benefit of those unfamiliar with this test, we would say that it consists of filtering a pint of milk through a thin pledget of cotton by means of a device especially designed for that purpose. The pledget catches and holds the dirt that may be in the milk, the amount caught varying from a scarcely perceptible sediment to an accumulation of hairs, sand, straw and other filth. The pledgets are removed from the filtering device and mounted on a card. On appearance, they are classified as clean, slightly dirty, dirty and very dirty.

Tested milk yielding "dirty" or "very dirty" results is evidence of carelessness, so the owner of the place from which the milk was taken is notified and he is requested to handle cleaner milk in future.

Housewives who notice a dirt sediment in the milk delivered to them in bottles can apply this test to the milk and present the pledget of cotton to their milk-man as proof-positive of a dirty, unsafe delivery. A simple method of applying this test to the milk is to use a perfectly clean funnel and placing at the opening in the funnel a small piece of clean absorbent cotton. Stand the funnel in a large fruit jar and filter the milk through the cotton. Remove the pledget of cotton carefully and place on a clean white card to dry.

If there is evidence of dirt on the cotton, call the attention of the milk-man to it. If there is no improvement in subsequent deliveries, notify the Health Department.

If you know of any unsanitary conditions or have any complaint to make, call at the Richmond Health Office, or phone 3021, and we will give it our immediate attention. "That's our business."

ODELL OUT FOR SUPERIOR COURT

MARTINEZ, Feb. 19.—Attorney C. A. Odell of Richmond was a Martinez visitor yesterday and from the way he was looking around the county court house and viewing the apartments that will probably be set apart for the second superior judge suspicions are aroused that he is figuring on being it himself. When asked about meeting with such a fate he admitted that some of his friends had urged him forth as a candidate and were still doing so and would likely to continue with the job of urging. He declared he harbored no enmity towards them for it and did not propose to get out injunction, restraining order or writ of prohibition to stop them. He confessed he was in the receptive mood. By that he means if he is elected he will don the ermine and draw the salary. Odell is popular and is well known.

With Henry Alvarado and A. B. McKensie and C. A. Odell and R. H. Latimer in the field there is plenty of choice for the most exacting in the selection of judicial goods. None of them ever wears a grouch or is disposed to uproot the liberties of the nation or wreck human happiness.

TOM SEATON IS NOW ON PAYROLL OF THE FEDERALS

Tom Seaton, former pitcher for the Philadelphia Americans, has been lured by $21,000 in money to join the Brooklyn team of that league, according to a press clipping taken from a recent edition of an eastern sporting sheet.

Seaton it will be remembered by the old fans of this city as having commenced his baseball career on the sand lots of Richmond.

Seaton started on his baseball career in this city as an outfielder on the old I. M. Perrin team being finally snatched from the outfield and placed in the box by Manager W. A. Luce who saw in "Tommy" the earmarks of a coming twirler. From then on it was easy sailing for the Richmond boy going for the Northwest league to the Portland team in the coast league and from there to the "Phillies" from which he was recently taken by the Federals.

His protest was overruled as was also the protest of Paul Dunlap against the improvement in the same neighborhood.

The protests against the improvement of Twenty-first street was also overruled.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. —adv.

RICHMOND MAN TRIES TO END LIFE IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Feb. 19.—A dramatic scene was enacted in a lodging house in Tenth street near Broadway, yesterday morning, when a plucky little woman faced a man determined to kill himself with a gun, after she had rescued him from death by gas.

Harvey Valentine of Richmond, the man, fingered the gun carelessly, and the woman was lifting the gun of the rooming house, sat at his side and pleaded with him for his life while her friends went in search of the police.

It was a game with a life at stake and perhaps two for the man was half crazed with suicidal intent and nursed a grudge against the woman for rescuing him from the gas.

"If you don't go way and leave me alone I'll blow my brains out before your eyes," he said again and again.

"Please be good enough to spare yourself an unpleasant sight."

But the woman remained steadfast in what she considered her duty. She looked the man squarely in the eyes and told him stories, talked of everything and anything she could think of to divert his mind from the idea of taking his life.

She was losing her fight gradually, an dthe man was lifting the gun to his temple to blow out his brains when the police arrived and saved him from himself.

"It was the most terrible ordeal I ever went through," said Mrs. Warner. "I was afraid Valentine would shoot me as well as himself. He came here last night and said he was going to work on the canal in Richmond today. This morning I scented gas in the hallway and broke into his room just in time to save him from asphyxiation."

W. S. Farley, former city engineer of this city has been named by the city council of Concord as engineer to supervise the street work that is being done in that city at the present time.
